

Session One

Rear Admiral Han Xiaohu

Commandant of the Naval Command College(NCC)
PLA Navy

Rear Admiral Han Xiaohu, commandant of Naval Command College, PLAN, was born in January, 1963. Upon graduation from Guanzhou Naval Surface Ship Institution, he was commissioned into East Sea Fleet, PLAN in 1983. During his early naval career, he has served as destroyer division leader, frigate XO, frigate CO, deputy head of training section, and commander of a flotilla. In 2010, he served as Vice Chief of Staffs of East Sea Fleet and was promoted to a flag officer next year. From 2012 to 2014, he worked in naval headquarters as Assistant Chief of Staffs of PLA Navy. Prior to being nominated as commandant of Naval Command College in 2017, he has also served as superintendent of Naval Engineering University. Among his sea duties, Rear Admiral Han Xiaohu has commanded the 8th batch China's naval escort group and served as Deputy Commander of Chinese naval forces attending the Sino-Russian Joint Maritime Exercise 2012.